Are Vacation Rentals for You?

Many people are intrigued by the affordability of vacation home rentals, but quickly become dismayed by the lack of on site value-added services. Vacation home rentals are for independent, adventurous travelers who crave privacy and prefer to discover a destination by themselves.

While Casa Gavilan offers all of the comforts of home including a full kitchen and laundry room, luxuries such as maid service, meal preparation, laundry service, concierge and on-site child care are simply not available. We provide guests with a great deal of literature detailing all of the wonderful things to see and do in the area, as well as practical information about grocery shopping, banking and other necessities.

Vacation rentals are best suited to travelers for whom day to day life in a different place is part of the adventure. Travelers who define a vacation as a respite from errands and household tasks are likely to be unhappy in a vacation rental. There are many fine hotels and resorts in the Lake Arenal area, and guidebooks such as Frommers or Lonely Planet can greatly help you in your search.
